COLUMBIA COUNTY CREAMERY.

A New Establishment In Bloomsburg That Will Be A Benefit To Farmers.

The Columbia County Creamery is located on Seventh street, opposite the Ice and Cold Storage Plant. It is completed, and contains machinery of the latest designs for making butter. The first churning was done last Saturday, and the butter made was of the very best quality.

Stations for gathering cream are located at Mifflinville, Light Street, Grovania, Benton, Orangeville, and several other points.

Each station has a skimming machine for separating the cream from the milk, run by a small steam engine. The cream is shipped daily from these points to the factory, and the skim milk is taken away by the owner.

The directors of the company are C. M. Creveling, E. E. Low, E. H. Sloan, H. J. Connor, B. W. Waples, A. C. Creasy, J. M. Shew Jr., R. T. Smith, J. L. Wolverton, A. W. Snyder, C. C. Peacock and W. R. Kocher. The factory is in charge of Carl Neilson, who has had six years experience in the business in Sweden, and six years in this country.

Fresh buttermilk can be obtained daily at the factory, and if the demand is sufficient for it, arrangements will be made to supply customers with fresh cream in quantities to suit.

The company has issued the following circular, which explains the method of operation:

"Our factory, including the several skimming stations, is now ready for operation. We will immediately begin operations, and all we ask is, that our patrons furnish us plenty of the raw material, milk. We do the rest, and for your benefit, which we will prove to you, if you will give the factory a fair trial. The butter factory is no new thing; new only for this locality; for there are hundreds of similar factories throughout the country, that are doing a satisfactory business for their patrons. We wish every farmer to make an extra effort to bring what milk he has, be it little or much, and if you are then not satisfied, withdraw. Remember there is nothing binding in this, you can withdraw at any time, only we wish you to give us a fair trial. The conditions upon which we will accept your milk, are briefly these:— Milk must be delivered at the factory or either of the skimming stations every day between the hours of five and eleven o'clock A. M. Night's milk to be held over until morning, and kept separate from the morning's milk. Milk must be properly strained, aired and cooled; to illustrate, when straining the milk into the can, use at least two thicknesses of cloth as a strainer; after the can has been filled, stir the milk thoroughly two or three times that the animal heat may escape. Do not close the cover on the can until ready to start for the factory. Every can, pail, cooler, and every other article used for, in, or about the milk must be kept perfectly clean and sweet. Settlements with patrons will be made the fifteenth of each month, for the previous month, and are to be based upon the per cent. of fat in the milk supplied by each patron, as shown by the Babcock Test. Remember that by the centrifugal method of separating the cream, from one-half to one pound more butter to each one hundred pounds of milk, is secured by this process, than can possibly be obtained by any other method. Then again the quality of the butter as a whole is better, being what is known as granular butter, which sells for the highest price. There is always a demand for a first-class article when put up in an attractive form. Here again the factory takes the lead, because everything is done by the latest improved methods, and under the most favorable conditions, which are practically unknown on the farm. Cans and other supplies will be furnished patrons of the company at first cost. Those delivering milk at any of the several skimming stations will be promptly attended to, so as to enable them to receive the milk to be taken home after the butter fat has been separated. Any further information desired will be furnished by those in charge of the several skimming stations or the butter factory. In conclusion we would say, to secure the most profit from your cows, feed liberally and keep them well housed during cold weather. Study them individually. Weigh each cow's milk night and morning, and see which respond at the pail when given extra feed. Have them tested separately at the factory, and you will soon know which cows you wish to keep, and the sooner the others grace the shambles the better for your pocket. We give all a cordial invitation to visit the factory at any time and inspect its workings."

PECULIAR RESULTS FROM EATING CHICKEN.

Glasco Cameron and his family partook of chicken pot pie for dinner on Sunday, and all became very sick, except the youngest child. The attack began with vomiting and continued for some time, and this no doubt saved them from more serious results. None of them were able to go for a doctor, and it was nearly two hours before word was sent to Dr. Arment, who pronounced it a case of poisoning from eating the pot pie. Although the chicken was to all appearances perfectly healthy, it was supposed that it had the cholera. The remains of the dinner were thrown in the swill pail by mistake, and on Monday Mr. Cameron fed it to his three pigs. In five minutes they began to vomit, and in an hour one of them was dead. The other two died in a couple of hours. The pigs were about four months old. It hardly seems possible that such results could come from a diseased chicken, for Mrs. Cameron cooked it and is satisfied that no poisonous matter could have found its way into the iron pot in which it was boiled. The family were all sick for two days, and Mrs. Cameron was still confined to the bed on Tuesday.

CHANGED HANDS.

The Well-Known Firm of J. R. Smith & Co. Sells Out.

The well-known piano and furniture firm of J. R. Smith & Co., of this place, one of the largest houses in this part of the State, has sold out their entire business to the Milton Piano and Furniture Company. The purchasers are from New England and are backed by unlimited capital and will enlarge the business and make it one of the big business institutions of the West Branch. The new firm have employed Mr. J. R. Smith as general manager. In the near future the mammoth store room will be remodelled and made one of the most elaborate and attractive business buildings in the State. Mr. M. D. Rissel will also be retained in the employ of the new firm. The thousands of old patrons of the late firm in this and adjoining counties will be given a hearty welcome when they come to Milton to shop.—Milton Record.

On Sunday morning Rev. P. A. Heilman said to his congregation that he hoped they would not attend the meetings of the Seventh day adventists, or give them any encouragement, as he considered them a disturbing element in the community, through their efforts to break down the Christian Sabbath, and their interference with the meetings of the churches and the Y. M. C. A.

We do not fully understand the doctrines of this sect, but the foundation stone of their structure seems to be that Saturday is the proper day for observance as the Lord's Day, instead of Sunday. If all the world should be converted to this idea, and the change should be universally observed what good would be accomplished thereby? As there is no possibility of this, the adoption of this creed by the laboring classes compels them to refuse to work on Saturday, thus losing a day for themselves and their employers, and in the case of those who are employed in mills and shops it would probably result in the loss of their situations. The business of the world will continue to go on for six days in the week, and the Sunday that has been observed as the Lord's day for nearly twenty centuries will not be changed. In this way it is easy to see what Mr. Heilman meant by designating the Seventh day adventists as a "disturbing element."

A RECTOR ELECTED.

The Vestry of St. Paul's Church held a meeting at Col. J. G. Freeze's office on Monday evening, and by a unanimous vote elected Rev. D. N. Kirkby, assistant minister at Grace Church, Brooklyn, N. Y. as rector of the parish. Mr. Kirkby officiated here two weeks ago last Sunday. His reply to the call has not yet been received.

Kee Sing, the chinaman, was arrested last Sunday for working in his garden on that day. The Sunday previous he built a chicken coop, and complaint was made that he was working at something every Sunday. President of Council Creasy was called on, and tried to persuade him to cease, but he refused, and then Chief Knorr arrested him, and a fine of five dollars was imposed.

PROFANITY ON THE STREETS.

Rev. G. E. Weeks struck the right note in his letter to the Daily. The subject referred to by him is one that has often been alluded to by THE COLUMBIAN. If it were generally known that profanity is punishable by arrest and a fine for every oath, it might not be so common on the streets. Or perhaps it is known, but the practice has gone on so long with impunity that the loafers know that they are perfectly safe, even though their profanity and obscenity are uttered in the presence and hearing of policemen. A few arrests would check this thing, and it is high time, for to our knowledge it has gone on unmolested for the past twenty years or more.

Here is Mr. Weeks' letter, above mentioned.

BLOOMSBURG, PA., April 30, 1895.

EDITOR DAILY:—I have noted more than once in your paper a word in behalf of the morals of our community. That is right, and I, for one, thank you. Monday evening you made a motion about profanity on our streets. I second the motion. It is nuisance enough to have our sidewalks blocked with loafing men and boys, but when they stand there using filthy and profane language, it is outrageous and lawless in the extreme. What wisdom is there in putting down these fine pavements, if they are to be used in this way? It would be both pleasanter and safer for our wives and children to walk the muddy alleys of a third class town, than it is for them now to walk the main street of our city on a summer evening. We cannot say very much about our "beautiful town," Mr. Editor, until we clear away some of the moral filth from our streets at least. The names of God and of Jesus Christ are very dear to me, and when I cannot pass along the streets without hearing those names loudly blasphemed, I feel that in that respect the community is lawless, and that I am not protected in my proper rights. If men must swear, let them do it in the hearing only of those who like to hear that kind of talk. I earnestly call for the enforcement of the law. GEO. E. WEEKS.

The act of 1794 reads as follows:

"If any person of the age of 16 years or upwards, shall profanely curse or swear, by the name of God, Christ Jesus or the Holy Ghost, every person so offending, being thereof convicted, shall forfeit and pay the sum of sixty-seven cents for every such profane curse or oath; and in case he shall refuse or neglect to pay the said forfeiture, or goods and chattels cannot be found, whereof to levy the same by distress, he shall be committed to the house of correction of the proper county not exceeding 24 hours for every such offense of which he is convicted."

Any such person cursing or swearing by any other name or thing, shall on conviction, pay a fine of 40 cents for every such offense.

As to indecent language, Town ordinance number one, section four, reads as follows:

If any person shall use indecent, rude or wanton language * * * within the presence or hearing of females passing along the street, he shall be arrested without warrant, on view by any policeman, and on conviction, pay a fine not exceeding five dollars and costs.

Let the pulpit and the press join hands in this matter, and pound away until this practice is broken up. The season is at hand when ladies sit out on the porches in the evening, but it is unpleasant to do so because of the vulgarity and obscenity of passing crowds of young men who seem to think they have a special license in Bloomsburg to offend the ears of girls and women, as well as of clergymen and others to whom such language is offensive. It cannot be hoped that all men can be prevented from swearing, but they can be made to understand that they must not indulge in the habit in places where sensitive ears may be offended.

NORMAL SCHOOL ELECTION.

The annual election of the stockholders of the State Normal School was held on Monday afternoon. C. W. Neal, I. W. Hartman and C. W. McKelvy acted as tellers. The trustees whose terms expired this year are F. P. Billmeyer, J. M. Clark, A. Z. Schoch, and Dr. J. Schuyler on the part of the stockholders, and John A. Funston and Grant Herring on the part of the state. A. L. Fritz was elected in place of Dr. Schuyler deceased, and all the others were re-elected.

The justices and constables of Schuylkill county held a meeting at the court house in Pottsville last Monday, to effect an organization.

BRIEF MENTION.

About People You Know.

A. J. Derr spent Monday in town.

Judge Benfield of Danville spent Monday in town.

Hiram Karns of Stillwater served on the grand jury this week.

Miss Marion Wilbur of Bethlehem is visiting at Dr. McKelvy's

Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Leverett are spending this week at Proctor Inn, Jamison City.

Dr. G. Stuart Kirby of Mauch Chunk, spent Thursday in town on business.

L. M. Creveling served as foreman of the grand jury this week. A good appointment.

B. F. Fruit of Jerseytown is spending this week in town, attending court, visiting his friends, and taking recreation.

Miss Bloom of Trenton, N. J. niece of Mr. J. B. Hunt, has been visiting here the past week.

Mrs. R. C. Drinker and infant daughter of South Bethlehem are visiting at Mrs. M. H. McKinney's.

Mrs. G. E. Myers and son, of Council Bluff, Iowa, are the guests of Mrs. J. F. Peacock on Fifth street.

Fred Smith, proprietor of the Palace Restaurant, Danville, smiled on his Bloomsburg friends on Monday.

C. B. Jackson Esq., and C. C. Evans Esq., of Berwick looked after the interests of their clients in court this week.

William Leverett Esq., went to Philadelphia on Tuesday. He has accepted a position with the commercial agency of R. G. Dun & Co.

Prof. G. E. Wilbur attended the Grand Council of the Royal Arcanum at Reading this week, as a delegate from the Bloomsburg Council.

Charles E. Kelchner has passed his examination at Harrisburg before the State Pharmaceutical Board, and is now a "qualified assistant."

Hon. H. H. Rutter and wife of Hughesville, Mrs. Dr. D. W. Conner and Dr. C. B. Frontz of Wilkes-Barre, were in town on Saturday attending the funeral of their little niece, Marion Rutter.

Representatives Fritz and Creasy, and Senator J. Henry Cochran were among the many guests at a reception given to Governor Hastings by John Wanamaker at his home in Philadelphia last Friday night.

Phillip Gibbons Esq., and his little son Frank of Benton township, were visitors to town on Monday. It was the little boy's first trip to Bloomsburg, and his first ride on the cars, and he enjoyed it greatly.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bohanan of Baltimore, reached here on Monday, and are visiting the latter's relatives here. Mrs. Bohanan was Miss Laura Pursel, formerly of this town, and her many friends will be glad to welcome her back after many years absence.

Mrs. R. W. Oswald and children went to Berwick last Thursday to welcome home her mother, grandmother, and brother, Mrs. S. P. Hanly, Mrs. W. Woodin, and Woodin Hanly, who have been travelling in Europe for the past year. They arrived in New York on the steamship Columbia on Friday, and came to Berwick on Saturday.

P. O. S. OF A. ANNIVERSARY.

The Opera House was filled to overflowing on Tuesday night. Every seat was occupied, and standing room in the aisles was scarce. Hundreds of people who came a little late were turned away. And hot! Well, if you were there we need not tell you anything about that, but it was stifling. Notwithstanding this, the audience sat through the exercises, and their interest and attention were held from beginning to end. The occasion was the seventh Anniversary of Washington Camp No. 319, Patriotic Order Sons of America. The program was published in THE COLUMBIAN last week. Elwell's Orchestra furnished the instrumental music in its well known excellent style. A quartette consisting of John Sterling, F. B. Hartman, Ed. Ent and L. S. Wintersteen sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America," and did it well. Rev. G. E. Weeks made the opening prayer, Rev. P. A. Heilman made an address, subject, God, and Rev. C. H. Brandt spoke on "Our Country." W. A. Evert Esq. delivered an address of welcome, and M. P. Lutz's topic was "Our Order." All of these were entertaining, eloquent, and instructive. Miss Evans recited "The Heroes of Sumter," in a very creditable manner. The tableaus were well presented, and like each number on the program, elicited applause. G. G. Baker presided as director of the exercises.

The hall was profusely and tastefully draped with the national colors, and the members of the order wore their uniforms. This order is one of the largest in town, and is rapidly growing. Their principles are patriotic, and their aim among other things, is to make good American citizens. That they have taken hold of the public sympathy and interest is clearly shown by the vast concourse of people that came out to witness their anniversary exercises.

The whistle of the steamboat Columbia is a familiar sound these days. It is on the canal.

IS THE MOON PEOPLED?

A Wonderful Instrument to be Erected to Settle This Question.

The popular impression is that the moon is a burnt-out world—a sort of cinder planet glistening in the heavens—but astronomers are by no means persuaded that such is the case, and some among them are hopeful that the question as to whether it is or is not inhabited will shortly be determined. This hope is based upon the fact that the great fifty-inch telescope which is being constructed in the Brashear establishment in Pittsburg, under the superintendence of Prof. Keller, of Allegheny Observatory, will shortly be ready for use. The tube of this giant instrument will be fully seventy feet in length, and for its operation will require a dome more than sixty feet in diameter.

Prof. Kellar has declared that he sees "no reason why the question as to the inhabitation of the moon should not be finally settled when this wonderful instrument is erected." Prof. Pympton, of Cooper Institute, is equally sanguine that the decisive results so long looked for are destined to be shortly realized. Such hopes will doubtless seem extravagant to many; but when it is remembered that the Lick telescope, which has done so much for science, is but thirty inches in diameter, and that the new glass will be twenty inches larger, it is easy to see that the great expectations of the astronomers are not without a reasonable basis. In any case, it is fairly certain that the fifty-inch telescope will add vastly to our knowledge of the firmament; and the news of its completion will therefore be awaited with the widest popular interest.—Philadelphia Record.

A Procrastinating Professor.

They are telling a pretty fair story on "Uncle Phil" Armour, just home from his European trip.

The story is in two chapters, with a period of thirty years elapsing between the two.

Thirty years or more ago P. D. Armour was a young man attending an academy near Syracuse, N. Y. There was a ladies' seminary near by, and one beautiful moonlight night Philip slipped away from his dormitory and took a pretty seminary girl out for a long buggy ride.

It came to the ears of the dignified faculty and a sentence of expulsion was entered up against P. D. Armour.

Years passed on. Young Armour came to Chicago and became the greatest merchant in the world.

One day an old man with a pair of white side whiskers and a professional beatific smile was ushered into Mr. Armour's private office.

"You remember the —— academy, Mr. Armour?" his visitor began.

"I should say I did. I was expelled from that institution for taking Susie —— out buggy riding."

"Well, then, perhaps you remember me. I am Prof. ——. I was a member of the faculty then, as I am now. And I want to say, Mr. Armour, that I always protested against your expulsion as being unjust and unwarranted by the facts. By the way, Mr. Armour, the academy is in a financial strait just now and I came to see if you would give us some assistance."

"Well," replied the millionaire, "if you protested against my expulsion all I have to say is that you have been a long time in letting me know about it."

But Mr. Armour made out a good round check, just the same, and sent the old pedagogue on his way rejoicing.—Chicago Mail.

Webster's Great Disappointment.

Webster's last speech in Washington was made from the portico of his mansion in response to a serenade given by some of his admirers, who were more zealous than considerate. The news of Gen. Scott's nomination of President had just been received. Webster had failed of the nomination, and the failure had broken his heart. It was a beautiful, starlit evening, and Webster, appearing before his friends, said a few words complimentary to Gen. Scott, for whom, in fact, he had great contempt; then, turning away from the subject of politics and the nomination, he said: "Gentlemen, this is a magnificent night." Then he apostrophized the stars and the planets revolving in their orbits in one of those splendid flights of oratory of which he alone was capable. Then, suddenly descending from the skies to earth, he said: "I now bid you good night. I shall retire to my couch to rest in untroubled sleep, and on the morrow the lark will not rise more jocund to greet the rising sun than I shall." It was the speech of a politician. He praised Scott, whom he despised, and he sought to convey the impression that he did not take to heart his failure to receive the nomination, when, in fact, it was the greatest disappointment of his life. Four months later he died at Marshfield.—Springfield Republican.

Robbed of Her Horns.

One thing which has changed the appearance of the country greatly in the dairying region is the practice, now very prevalent, of "dehorning" cattle. The farmers of northern New England seem to have made the sudden discovery that horns on cows were a gigantic mistake of the creator, to be remedied radically and at once. They say that the cows, if horned, hook each other dreadfully when they are watering, and rattle their horns together in the stanchions, and otherwise misconduct themselves. So they get a "dehorning machine," and fasten the poor cow's neck to it, and with one swoop deprive her of her chief ornaments and her natural protection, and leave her a wretched, shorn creature, that no artist would think of painting. The loss of her horns seems to turn the cow into a kind of sheepish and furtive being; she has not the confident and self-satisfied air that usually marks her kind. One has no idea of the difference which horns make in the expression of cattle until he sees a herd of these dehorned and deformed animals.—Boston Transcript.

New Use for Leather.

Another use for leather has been discovered; the making of artificial whalebone. The leather is soaked for two or three days in sulphate of potassium, and then stretched on a frame slowly dried, and exposed to a high temperature. Afterward, being subjected to heavy pressure, it becomes hard and elastic.

HIS BEAUTIFUL THEORY.

He Was an Advocate of Honesty, But He Did Not Practice It.

"Honesty in politics?" said the man who was dining at the table next the window. "Huh, there isn't any such thing. That's a fiction that was played out long, long ago. Now-a-days it is the man with the biggest fortune who gets the offices. I tell you that this country has reached a deplorable state of morals."

"How's that?" asked the man who sat across from him.

"Why, there is no honesty in business, social or political life. The elections are crooked. The vilest sort of schemes are resorted to in order to get votes. Men are openly bribed. Men who get into office steal everything they can get their hands on. It's the same way in business, too. You can never tell when to trust a man. People you have dealt with for years do not hesitate to do you up if they get a chance. They sell you poor goods at high prices. They use all sorts of dishonest means to get your trade and when they get it they at once proceed to get even by cheating you. And in society—why, society is rotten to its core. Honesty is as scarce as purity. There is nothing that is too mean for these people who pretend to be the leaders of the social sets. I am tired of the whole business. I had a good mother who taught me to be honest and I have always tried to live up to her teachings. I can look any man in the face and say that I am an honest man. But—— Let's get out of here and back to the office."

His friend picked up the check and passed it over to him. As he did so he remarked: "That fool of a waiter has made a mistake of sixty cents in our bill."

"Too much?" inquired the honest man.

"No; too little."

The honest man grabbed his hat. "Hurry up," he said, "and perhaps we can get out of here before he finds it out. That's just so much money saved."—Buffalo Express.

Aluminum Violins.

Prof. Alfred Springer treated the scientists at the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science to a lecture on aluminum violins. A musician played on the instrument, which was shaped like a wooden violin. The body is made of aluminum, but the neck and keys are wooden. "My experiments," said Prof. Springer, "incline me to believe that the real cause of the superiority of the old wooden instruments over new ones is not so much in the increased elasticity of the wood or the composition of the varnish as in the peculiar warping of the wood to a higher arch, a buckling caused by the position of the 'f holes' and sound posts, which may be obtained by using aluminum."

The instrument produced a great volume of tone, but there was a variety of opinions as to its quality.

Some musicians declared that the quality was not as good as a wooden one for solo work, but that it would prove good in orchestra work. Others took the opposite side of the question entirely, while a few predicted that in a few years aluminum violins will be substituted for the wooden instruments.—New York Commercial.

Face Massage Folly.

Massage operators never rub the face dry. They use the softest linen available and absorb the water, sponge fashion. In making up the face, after the greasing, rubbing, washing and rinsing, the professional masseur dabs or sponges it dry and applies a delicate emollient made of honey-almond cream or a teaspoonful of rose water, with one drop of benzoin and two drops of glycerine. This is to soften and heal the sore skin. A paint brush is dipped in liquid rouge, and the faintest tint is put in the lips, ears, chin and nostrils. Then the face and neck are dusted with a powder tinted to suit the complexion; the brows are lined in a bit, and there you are with a bill of $1, $2 or $3, according to the presumption or pretension of the face washer.—New York World.

They Say.

They say that pleasure's treadmill is a bicycle; that whistling half an hour after meals is the best aid to digestion; that a man is very stingy when he will not enjoy a joke at his own expense; that if tact could be sold, only such as are already possessed of it would want to buy it; that man always wants somebody to answer his question, but nobody to question his answers; that the number of languages and dialects spoken in the world is 3,064, exclusive of baby talk and the language of our railway porters; that people think it is tough when they have to pay thirty-five or forty cents a pound for steak, but it is tougher when they pay only fifteen.

New Postal Card.

A unique innovation of the postal card system will soon be adopted in France. Instead of the cards being separate as they now are, they will be issued in the form of check books with stubs. A memorandum of the substance of the contents of the card can be entered on the stub, and the sender can have this stamped at the post office before the card is detached, so that a verified record of the correspondence can be kept.

Why Chinese Have No Fear.

The absence of fear of death which is such a striking characteristic of the Chinese nature has a logical explanation. The Chinese are taught that only those who face death fearlessly enter into happiness in the other world. Foreigners who have witnessed executions in China bear witness that, as the executioner with his sword mows down the kneeling ranks, the convicts invariably meet death with a jest.

A Gentleman.

What is it to be a gentleman? Is it to be honest, to be gentle, to be generous, to be brave, to be wise, and, possessing all these qualities, to exercise them in the most graceful outward manner? Ought a gentleman to be a loyal son, a true husband and honest father? Ought his life to be decent—his bills to be paid—his tastes to be high and elegant—his aims in life lofty and noble?—Thackeray.

20 YEARS AGO

a discovery of the greatest possible benefit to mankind was made in medicine. Physicians universally recognized its beneficent results and welcomed it as one of the most valuable remedial agents that has been developed in medicine, because it covered such a wide range of usefulness and brought into requisition the most remarkable food-medicine in existence. This discovery was and this wonderful nutrient was Cod-liver Oil, but until it was made available in Scott's Emulsion it was almost useless, but by their process of emulsifying it and making it palatable and easy of assimilation, and adding to it the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, they have given the world a remarkable curative agent in all wasting diseases, both in children and adults.

HARRISBURG LETTER.

Legislators Now Hope to Finish Their Work on June 6.

WORK AHEAD OF LAST SESSION.

A Hundred More Bills Have Been Acted Upon Than for the Same Time in 1893. The Beer Tax Bill Will Probably be Defeated.

(Special Correspondence.)

HARRISBURG, May 6.—The legislature will probably wind up its affairs the first Thursday of June. The members have become tired of the daily grind of routine work and are anxious to get away. The senate calendar is in good shape, and, if necessary, can be cleared of all bills within forty-eight hours. The house took a spurt last week and cleaned up the calendar of first and second reading house bills. There are less than fifty senate bills on second reading, and about 200 house bills on third reading on the house calendar. This is equal to about eight days' work of six hours a day. Speaker's Clerk Huhn says it is the first time within his legislative experience of thirty-four years that the house calendar was clear of second reading house bills the first week of May.

A resume of the work of the house up to date shows that it has considered 716 bills on first reading, 601 on second reading and 208 on third reading. A comparison of the work accomplished by the house up to May 2, 1893, and the same date this year shows that two years ago 556 house and 231 senate bills, or 787 in all, had been reported from the committees. This year the house bills number 624 and the senate bills 248, a total of 872. Two years ago, at this time, 129 house bills had been acted upon and sent to the senate, together with 14 senate bills. This year the numbers are 187 and 21, respectively. There have been 24 house bills passed both branches and gone to the governor, or one more than two years ago.

A comparison of the work of the senate up to date with two years ago shows that 597 bills have been read in place this year, as against 480 in 1893. Two years ago, up to May 2, there were 488 bills reported from the senate committees. This year there have been brought out 609.

The Senate Moving Slowly.

The senate is moving very slowly. Its members are in no hurry to dispose of the remaining house bills on the calendar until they have some definite information as to what is to become of their bills in the house. Two years ago, when the legislature adjourned, two hundred senate bills were left on the house calendar. The senators claim that they are entitled to the same consideration the house has received at their hands, and they do not propose to concur in the joint resolution for a final adjournment until all their bills have been acted upon. The senate is an easy going body, and its members are willing to stay here until the middle of June, if necessary, to secure final consideration in the house of their pet measures.

Chairman Marshall, of the house appropriations committee, expects to report next Thursday about forty appropriation bills for state institutions. They will aggregate about $4,500,000, a heavy reduction over two years ago. The managers of the state institutions have hitherto received a lot of extras that they will not get this year.

Discussing appropriations it might be said that there is very little hope for any of the institutions, other than those supported wholly by the state, that are now seeking aid. There has been no brightening of the cloudy financial sky so far as the state government is concerned. It may be that after everything has been considered and the accounts gone over carefully that there may remain a very little to be divided among the semi-state institutions, but it will be so little that it will not be a drop in the bucket.

Nothing has yet been done by the legislature to increase the state revenues. The house ways and means committee will report tomorrow the Cochrane bill taxing brewers twenty-four cents a barrel for all beer brewed or sold within the state. This would raise an annual revenue of about $900,000. If such a law is passed nothing can be realized from it for a year.

Opposing the Beer Tax Bill.

This beer tax bill has created one or two commotions in the house. The latest occurred last Thursday night, when an attempt was made to get the bill out of the hands of the committee on ways and means. Chairman Ritter objected, however, and the proposition failed, on the ground that it was not the fault of the committee that the bill had not been considered. The proposition is to tax domestic beer sixteen cents per barrel. It is also proposed to tax foreign beer—that is, all beer that comes from Rochester, Cincinnati, Milwaukee or Canada—a similar amount.

When the remarkable decline in the state's revenues were first announced and the proposition was made to cut down the school appropriation the grangers immediately raised a cry and declared that this was unnecessary, inasmuch as the loss in revenue could be made up by imposing a tax on beer. A bill to this effect was already before the house, having been introduced by Representative Cockran, of Armstrong, but it hung fire in committee. The grangers immediately began to agitate its passage. They sent committees to interview the governor, and formed temporary organizations to push the scheme.

Behind it all lay this fact, that if the school appropriation was reduced they would be compelled to increase their local taxation for school purposes. It is not likely that anything will be done with the matter. It will frighten the brewers and others interested in the production of beer, and that will be all. The stumbling block in the whole measure is the injustice of its dealings, should it become a law, to the Pennsylvania brewers.

So far as known there is no way in which the tax can be saddled on the brewer in Milwaukee shipping beer into Pennsylvania. He could claim protection under the original package act of the United States government, and there the matter would end. It is now proposed to let them ship their products in original packages and then tax it after it gets in. No decision has been rendered on the subject by any competent authority and is not likely to be until final action is taken on the measure.

The New Revenue Bill.

The new revenue bill will be considered next Thursday on second reading. Chairman Riter, of the ways and means committee, has the measure in charge, and has requested members who have amendments which they intend to offer to hand them to him, so that they may be submitted to the committee.

There have been so many conflicting interests to be considered in this direction that it can be predicted that there will be the hottest kind of a fight over the various provisions. Members from the rural districts will raise the cry, which has been raised so often before, that the farmers are being oppressed to the benefit of the corporations. But the men who have given the closest attention to this, and who have looked after the interest of the farmer as well as the interest of the manufacturer, claim that the revenue bill which comes out, as the result of the best thought of the tax conference, is by long odds the most equitable and perfect bill that has seen the light of day in Pennsylvania in recent years.

It is expected that the house will consider this week on second reading the numerous local and special bills which have been lingering in committee and on the calendars for a long time. The bill creating the office of deputy auditor general and two traction measures will be considered in the house on third reading and final passage tomorrow morning on special orders.

During the week the friends of the Flinn road bill, and the measure put in by Representative Smiley will endeavor to agree upon a bill satisfactory to both parties. It looks now as if there might be some road legislation this session. There will also be a conference during the week on the two bills changing the method of distributing the school appropriation.

The Porter School Bill Muddle.

The Porter school bill abolishing sectional school boards in Philadelphia, on which a hearing will be given tomorrow evening, is doomed to defeat unless its friends can rescue it from the hands of the house committee on municipal corporations. In the first place it is conceded that a mistake was made in referring it to this committee; that instead of going to the committee on municipal corporations it should have gone to the committee on education. The friends of the bill claim that it was sent to the committee on municipal corporations by design and for the purpose of encompassing its defeat.

Speaker Walton was absent for several days last month and in his absence called Representative P. M. Lytle, of Huntingdon, to the chair. It was the latter gentleman who referred this bill to the committee on municipal corporations, and upon whose shoulders there has rested the charge of design in referring it. Mr. Lytle explains that he referred it to the municipal corporations committee because it was so marked by Speaker's Clerk Huhn, on whose judgment he relied, and Mr. Huhn declares that he referred it to the committee on municipal corporations, instead of to the committee on education, because it had been referred to that committee in the senate, and he supposed it should go to the same committee in the house.

An interesting compilation of street passenger railway, electric and traction power bills in house and senate has been made. It shows that there are just fourteen of these bills in the house and senate. One failed last week, four have passed second reading in the house, three are on third reading in the house, one has been substituted, two have passed the house finally, two still hang fire in the committee on street passenger railways in the house, and one is now in a committee of the senate.

To Banquet the Legislators.

The members will mix pleasure with work this week. Tomorrow the association of country newspaper editors in the senate and house will tender a banquet to the eighteen legislative correspondents. The following evening Chris L. Magee will probably give a banquet to the members of both branches in honor of the approval of the greater Pittsburg bills. The intention is to hold the banquet on the evening of the day on which the three annexation bills receive Governor Hastings' signature. It is believed the governor will sign them on Wednesday, and not later than Thursday.

It will probable be determined this week whether or not Philadelphia is to be "Lexowed." The senate judiciary general committee is expected to take final action tomorrow evening on the Penrose resolution for a senate committee to investigate the municipal affairs of the Quaker city. The same afternoon the opponents of the proposed investigation will be given a hearing by the committee. There will be more surprises in store for senators on both sides of this question. There are senators who are counted on one side who will vote on the other, and vice versa. All newspaper estimates as to how the fight will result in committee are pure conjecture. One thing is certain, that the opposition is stronger than anyone has dreamed of, and it is pretty broadly hinted on what seems substantial grounds that unless Senator Quay gives orders that the resolution be passed it will run a very doubtful course.

Everybody is waiting to hear from Senator Quay. He has been expected here for a month. Last week a close friend said he had decided to remain away from the state capital during the legislative session. It is now stated on the highest authority that the senator will come to Harrisburg for a few days after the senate has disposed of the Penrose resolution. Senator Quay will spend the summer at his home at Beaver. W.

Burglars Use Dynamite.

TROY, Pa., May 6.—A daring burglary was perpetrated in this place during the night. The safe in Robinson's mill and feed store was blown open with dynamite and afterward the postoffice was broken into. The postmaster hearing the noise the burglars decamped, leaving a part of their tools in their haste. Only a small sum of money was obtained, the safe in the postoffice remaining unopened.

Judge White Wins His Contest.

INDIANA, Pa., May 6.—The contest court in the Blair-White judical election fight decided in favor of Judge Harry White, the Republican candidate. There is some talk of possible prosecution of White on a charge that he committed perjury in taking the oath of office, but the chances are that Harry White will be on the bench for ten years.

Evidence of Infanticide.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 6.—The dead body of a newly born infant was found floating in Mill creek, not far from this city, yesterday. It was wrapped only in a petticoat and there were no marks of identification. The child had been born alive and had evidently been in the water about twenty-four hours.

One Miner Killed, Another Fatally Hurt.

ASHLAND, Pa., May 6.—A heavy fall of coal occurred at Knickerbocker colliery, instantly killing Stein Matscar. His body was covered with several tons of coal and rock, requiring an hour to move it. An explosion of gas at the same mine fatally injured John Leckow, a miner.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 6, 1895.

"No entangling foreign alliances," is the good old Jeffersonian motto that President Cleveland has adopted for his administration, and, although a few loud mouthed jingoists are struggling hard to make it appear otherwise, there is little doubt that the majority of the voters of this country believe in that motto. It has governed the administration throughout the wrangle between Great Britain and Nicaragua, and, notwithstanding many previous reports to the contrary and the shrewd diplomatic efforts of interested countries, it is and will continue to be the governing spirit of this country's acts in connection with the new complications between Japan and Russia. President Cleveland is always ready and willing to use all the influence at his disposal to bring about a peaceful settlement of disputes between nations, but when asked to assume a position that would in effect, if not actually, be taking sides in the disputes he invariably declines, and thereby proves himself a true friend to the real interests of the United States.

The idea is prevalent that when President Cleveland fills the vacancy in the Civil Service Commission caused by the resignation of Mr. Roosevelt ("our Teddy") he will also appoint a successor to Commissioner Lyman, whose resignation has, it is reported, been asked for. Mr. Roosevelt's successor will be a democrat, but if Lyman goes out his successor will be a republican. It has for a long time been the opinion of many people, including members of the Congressional committee which investigated the late Frank Hatton's charges against the Civil Service Commission, that Mr. Lyman ought to go, but somehow he has managed to hold on through it all.

Secretary Herbert has decided not to attend the celebration of the opening of the Baltic Sea canal, which is to occur at Kiel, Germany, on June 19. He received a special invitation to attend from the German government, and for a time thought he would be able to do so, but a closer study of the official programme he has mapped out convinced him that he couldn't. He abandoned the idea with reluctance.

Assistant Secretary McAdoo is again on duty at the Navy department, having this week returned from his five weeks cruise with Admiral Meade's squadron. He is enthusiastic over the behavior of men and ships on the cruise, and says he learned and unlearned much that will be useful to him and beneficial to the government in administering his official business. He is greatly pleased at the result of the experiment made by the department on this cruise, of sending coal for the ships direct from the United States in order to head off the extortion of the coal dealers in West Indian and Central American ports. The experiment was a success. Mr. McAdoo says: "There was considerable opposition and somewhat of an organized effort made to prevent the securing of labor for taking the coal from the American schooners to the ships; but this effort failed. In one instance the local coal dealers employed all the labor in the market, paying the men to remain idle. But laborers were procured from the interior. The result of this very wise action on the part of the department—which will save annually a great deal of money—is that the local dealers in nearly all West Indian and Central American ports have made overtures to furnish coal at a reasonable increase over its market value in the United States. Not only will this keep the price down for the Navy, but it will open the market for the American article at ports where only English coal is now found, as the dealers know that they cannot compete in prices and continue to sell English coal.

The marriage in Washington, last Tuesday, of Senator Murphy's oldest daughter to ex-Mayor Hugh Grant, of New York city, is regarded by those who keep track of the side currents in politics as being much more than a mere society event. It means, they think, the uniting of two men's interests who will in all probability have a hand in directing the course of the democratic party of the Empire state for some time to come.

Secretary Gresham is again quite unwell and his friends are growing uneasy about his health. He has President Cleveland's habit of doing more work at times than he ought to, and his duties have been especially harassing of late, causing him to overtax his strength before he had entirely recovered from his recent illness.

Senator Allison was in Washington this week, trying to drive a few spikes in the aspirations of the other republican Presidential candidates. He has reached the I-have-nothing-to-say stage.

However, it must be remembered that he will not undertake to treat all cases, but only those which he is positive can be cured or greatly relieved, and will tell you at once which, if either, can be accomplished.

DR. MacTAGGART is the only specialist this side of New York, Philadelphia and Buffalo, who makes an exclusive specialty of treating Chronic cases and the Diseases of Women. Those who have been suffering for years should call at once and learn whether their ailment can be cured or not. No cases received unless they can be cured or greatly helped.

What Dr. MacTaggart HAS DONE AND IS DOING.

The Doctor wishes the public to understand that he is not soliciting the ordinary run of cases, but desires just such diseases to treat that other physicians cannot succeed with or at least fail to cure. When you suffer from such consult him (consultation is free), have him thoroughly diagnose your case, and then what he tells you can be relied upon as a fact beyond refutation. Some may say, "Why go to Dr. MacTaggart when we have as good doctors here as anywhere?" Yes, so you have in their line of practice, but not in those specialties that Dr. MacTaggart is schooled and practiced in. In support of this unqualified assertion read his testimonials—not only read them, but investigate the truthfulness of them. Where are the physicians who can remove cancers without pain and cure it beyond peradventure? He does it. Where can you find another physician in Pennsylvania who can remove tumors of even 60 pounds weight without the use of the knife, without pain, and without leaving a scar? Dr. MacTaggart does it. What physician can cure fistulas without cutting or causing the least pain or soreness during treatment? Dr. MacTaggart does it successfully. These are golden truths—golden because it proves beyond dispute that the science of medicine in specialties particularly, is advancing with rapid strides far in the lead of the regular practioner. 1-18-1y.

THE COLUMBIAN,
Bloomsburg, Pa.

FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1895.

The Judges' retirement bill is hopelessly killed in the Senate. It is probable that the new appellate court bill may now be passed.

Auditor General Mylin and Secretary of Internal Affairs Brown took the oath of office Tuesday and relieved predecessors, General Gregg and Major Brown. General Gregg will return to Reading, where he resided at the time of his election. Major Brown will be General Latta's deputy, which position he held for seven and a half years prior to his appointment as secretary to fill the unexpired term of Adjutant General Stewart. A number of changes in the auditor general's department will shortly be announced. There will probably be no changes in the department of internal affairs.

Senator Penrose will not be swerved from his purpose to push the resolution through, providing for an investigation of the municipal affairs of Philadelphia, although every influence has been brought to bear on him by some of the Republican leaders to induce him to desist. Why do they object to it? They say that the Democrats are the only ones who demand it. Well, if there is nothing crooked they need not fear to turn the light on. It is the great effort to prevent it, that makes it look the more suspicious. Senator Quay is said to be with Penrose in the matter.

Quay County Assured.

Quay county is assured, says the Harrisburg Patriot. The friends of the new county movement have finally enlisted Senator Quay in their cause. This means the passage of the bill and its approval by Governor Hastings. Senator Quay has appealed to his Republican friends in the house to vote for the bill out of justice to the people of that section of Luzerne and Schuylkill counties out of which is to be created the new county. These people claim they are so far away from the county seats of the two counties as to be almost entirely forgotten by the county officials, except to assist in sharing the burdens of taxation. The advocates of the bill will call it up next week and put it through on final passage. They claim to have more than enough votes.

The lobby of the capital has been crowded since Monday with Schuylkilly county Republican politicians opposing the bill. A caucus of the leaders of the opposition was held Monday evening to outline a plan of action when the bill is under consideration.

Business in the Best Condition Since May, 1893

THE VOLUME INCREASING.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade of last week said:

Business begins May in better condition than at any other time since the break down in May, 1893. Smaller in volume than then, it is not shrinking, but enlarging. The chief obstacle to a more complete recovery is the anxiety of many to pluck fruit before it is ripe. Holders of some staples have lifted them so far as to prevent their marketing; consumption in materials in some branches is checked by advance which cannot be realized for finished products; workers in some industries are demanding wages that cannot be paid out of any business in sight. In spite of labor troubles and speculative excesses, the outlook brightens; money markets continue healthy, and with heavy sales of railroad bonds abroad, the deficiency in public revenue, $8,742,840 in April, causes no apprehension. Demand for full restoration of wages to the level of 1892 have closed many woolen mills, and threaten to close others employing about 9,000 hands at Olneyville and about Providence, and have arrested work at other mills of some importance already. Similar demands are made in the cotton mills of Massachusetts. The strike which closed iron furnaces at New Castle, Pa., has just ended without success, but other strikes have stopped numerous works about Pittsburg and Pocahontas.

The coke workers are on strike, and one is threatened by Alabama coal miners. Exaggerated accounts of recovery in business, so often published and some times prompted by manufacturers themselves, make it not entirely strange if operatives fail to see that the business done in the great industries is without profit, and much of the working force is still unemployed.

The speculative fever grows more fierce, as is natural when business starts up with prices at extreme low points.

Stocks have reacted a little, but are again 38 cents higher for railways and $1 higher for trusts, than a week ago, and buying on foreign accounts especially of bonds, is of important service in the foreign exchange market, which is much weaker. Railway earnings increase over last year, but 2.2 per cent, on roads reporting for April thus far, with a decrease of 12.9 per cent. from 1893.

The strike at New Castle, now over stiffened Bessemer pig so that $10.75 was quoted at Pittsburg, and the closing of a Wheeling mill stiffened billets, while Southern makers have nominally advanced their price, though sales have been made here under $10 for No. 2. Additional contracts for structural works here and at Chicago, sales of 7000 rails at the East, a better demand for wire and its products, and for plates and sheets, are the encouraging features this week. Consumption does not yet equal the capacity of works of output of pig, but improves. Late in the week important strikes in iron works at Pittsburg threatens serious disturbance. Anthracite coal agents agree to mine only three days of the week in May, but prices are unchanged.

The week's failures are 231 in the United States against 233 last year and 34 in Canada against 35 last year.

Gidding & Co. sell children's wash knee pants for 15 cts.

GENERAL NEWS.

A fire at Glen Hazel, McKean county, on Sunday destroyed $300,000 worth of property.

There must be quiet about school houses. A few days ago Judge Ermentrout granted an injunction to restrain the Reading foundry company, limited, from cleaning its castings in its yard adjoining the school house. The bill in equity sets forth that the noise is so loud as to interrupt the recitation in the school and cause nervous and other physical ailments to the teachers and pupils.

Benjamin G. Welch and wife, Sarah A., of Hughesville, have commenced suit against the Williamsport & North Branch Railroad to recover damages—on a claim of negligence by the above company, in causing the death of their daughter, Miriam Welch, a year ago.

Milton wheelmen are justly indignant and are making a decided kick against putting cinder on the streets, as it makes them almost impassable. As they are not allowed on the sidewalks, they think it looks as if they were going to be shut out altogether.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. has declared a semi-annual dividend of two and a half per cent. payable May 31.

There is no better evidence of the enormous decrease in the lumbering industry of Clearfield county than the fact that but four rafts came out of Clearfield creek this year and about 800,000 feet of logs. Twelve years ago 75 rafts were common and about 40,000,000 feet of logs. The great lumber section is gone, and the men who worked in the lumber woods most of the year have now turned their attention to the coal and fire clay mining, says the Du Bois Courier.

Farmers in Berks county are asking eight and ten cents more a bushel for wheat than two months ago, and owing to this advance Berks millers have raised the price of new flour from thirty to fifty cents per barrel. Five bushels of wheat make a barrel of flour. The Reading Eagle says that millers are now paying farmers sixty-five cents per bushel for wheat and have advanced the price on flour dealers thirty to fifty cents, the price being $3 30 to $3 50 a barrel. These are the prices for new flour. Consumers have not been affected as yet, for they are still buying flour that was in stock. But they will be paying more within the next month.

Gidding & Co. placed on their tables $8, $9 and $10 suits, odd sizes at 6.98.

Death of Robert Klotz.

Robert Klotz, who represented this district in the 46th and 47th congresses, died at his home in Mauch Chunk last week Wednesday, aged 76 years. Mr. Klotz was prominent in Democratic politics for many years. He was born in Carbon County, Pa., Oct. 27, 1819. He served as a lieutenant of volunteers in the Mexican war. In 1855 he went to Kansas, where he served as a member of the Topeka Constitutional Convention, as Secretary of State and as brigadier general. Returning to Pennsylvania in 1859, he served as treasurer of Carbon County and two terms in the State legislature and as a member of Congress from 1879 to 1883. He was a trustee of the Lehigh University and one of the managers of the Laflin & Rand Powder Co., of New York.

The Royal Arcanum.

A LARGE INCREASE IN MEMBERSAIP DURING THE PAST YEAR.

The seventh biennial session of the grand council of the Royal Arcanum of Pennsylvania opened at Reading on Tuesday. About 250 delegates were present, many of the latter being accompanied by their wives. Grand Regent E. D. Doolittle presided. The address of welcome was delivered by D. H. Wingert and was responded to by Grand Orator C. E. Cornelius, of Pittsburg.

Grand Secretary J. H. Wright presented his report showing 213 councils in good standing and a membership of 18,003, December 31, 1894. This shows a net gain of nearly 1,800 since the last biennial session which is regarded as very good considering the depression in business. Grand Treasurer W. D. Shuster's report shows receipts from all sources $37,357.73; amount paid out on warrants $29,026.27; balance on hand March 31, 1895, $8,331.46.

A New Telephone Company.

Application will be made to the Governor of Pennsylvania during the present month for a charter, for a Telephone Company, for the counties of Schuylkill, Columbia and Northumberland. The company will give us much cheaper rates and a greater convenience for using the telephone for private and general business purposes. The time has come when every business establishment, as well as many private homes realize the importance and great convenience of private uses of the telephone. The gentlemen that are making the application for the charter are W. A. Marr, Esq., and E. C. Price, of Ashland, E. P. Hunter, of Shenandoah, Samuel R. Kearcher, Esq., of Pottsville, and Edward Silliman, of Mahanoy City, all well known business men of Schuylkill county, which is a sufficient guarantee that it is a legitimate business undertaking of which the people can have the utmost confidence.—Ashland Local.

A Great Offer.

The "Twice-a-Week" edition of the New York World (formerly the Weekly) has proved a phenomenal success. It is a Semi-Weekly of six pages, mailed Tuesdays and Fridays; eight columns to the page; forty-eight columns each issue. It gives the news fully half a week ahead of any weekly paper, and, at the same time, retains all the literary, agricultural, miscellany and other features which made the Weekly World so popular. Yet the price is only $1.00 a year. For sample copies address THE WORLD, N. Y.

Arrangements have been made by which we can furnish this paper and the Twice-a-Week New York World all for $1.75 a year. Take advantage of this offer and get your own local paper and the Twice-a-Week World at this special rate. tf.

That Tired Feeling

Is a dangerous symptom. It means a lack of vitality in the blood—a decrease of the red corpuscles upon which the strength and richness of the blood depends. It comes especially in the Spring because the system has been subject to unusual demands during the cold weather. The wasted vigor must be re-supplied. That tired feeling must be overcome, or else the approaching hot weather will have most serious effects. The best

Spring Medicine

Is Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it cures That Tired Feeling by purifying, enriching and vitalizing the blood, giving it power to carry health to every organ of the body. It "makes the weak strong," not by stimulating, but by actually giving strength, by building up the wasted energies, restoring the appetite and assisting the stomach and digestive organs in their important functions. The importance of attending to this matter of health now cannot be overestimated. Hood's Sarsaparilla will make a vast improvement in your feelings. It will thoroughly renovate your system and fit you for the duties and pleasures of the spring and summer.

The Wonderful Cures

of scrofula, salt rheum, eczema and other diseases which have been accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla have given it the leading place in the field of medicine. When you take Hood's Sarsaparilla to purify your blood you are not experimenting. The facts all prove absolutely that in Hood's Sarsaparilla you have a medicine tried and true. It has cured thousands of others and it will do you good. Do not be induced to buy any other. Insist upon Hood's and only

Hood's Has Merit

One Bottle Convinced—Farther Use Cured

Hip Disease, Sciatic Rheumatism, That Tired Feeling.

"I read that one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla would convince me of its merits, and I have found this true.

"Some two years ago two ulcers appeared on my hip, which, after being sore a long time, broke and discharged. I also was attacked with sciatic rheumatism, my leg being drawn so that I could hardly get around the house. I hardly knew what a good night's rest was. The hip trouble caused me great trouble and annoyance, and eczema appeared on my hands. Naturally I began to run down, was weak and low spirited. The physician told me my hip would have to be operated upon before I would get any better. At last I decided to take one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. In three weeks my rheumatism entirely disappeared and I found that

I Was on the Gain.

This was very encouraging, and I found that I could sleep well at night. My health steadily improved, and, of course I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. My hip has been restored to good condition, the sores have stopped discharging and healed up. I am able for the first time in three years to do my own housework, and can walk two miles without trouble. I have no symptoms of rheumatism; that tired feeling has entirely left me. My neighbors say I look better than for many years. I do earnestly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all sufferers, especially those afflicted with impure blood." MRS. A. S. BOWEN, Cline, Arkansas.

"I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for six months. Before I began taking it I had that tired feeling when I got up in the morning, also a terrible headache and my blood was very impure. Since I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla all that tired feeling is gone, also the headache, and my blood is pure again." WILLIAM GARDNER, 10 Tower St., Fall River, Mass.

Makes the Weak Strong.

"I had a tired and drowsy feeling and my nerves were in a bad condition and appetite was poor, so I concluded I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla. After I had taken the second bottle I began to feel much better and I recommend Hood's to all." ELMER J. WOOLLEY, Jamesburg, New Jersey.

Purify Your Blood

"My brother and myself have had scrofula or salt rheum ever since we were born. We took Hood's Sarsaparilla and commenced to get better. When we had taken one bottle and a half each, we were cured. My mother used to be troubled with headache and pains, but took Hood's Pills and was cured." James Scanlon, 54 Roxford St., Norwich, New York.

Hood's and Only Hood's.

"I took Hood's Sarsaparilla for a tired, worn out feeling, and it has proved the best medicine that I have ever taken. I had a breaking out on my face which I thought was erysipelas. I commenced using Hood's Sarsaparilla and have not had any of that trouble since." MRS. H. B. KEADLE, Pickaway, West Virginia.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Center of Attraction.

It isn't everybody that can make a success out of the dry goods business. Some natural fitness is necessary. Competition is so keen that some advantages must be possessed. Without these essentials you might as well expect to kindle a fire with brickbats as to make and hold a trade.

CREPONS.

We don't see where "fleecy billows," "waves of the ocean," etc., etc., have anything to do with black crepons—a plain story about this lot. Half a dozen different weaves, all at the height of fashion, and an extra measure of width. Buy now at 75c., $1.00, $1.25 and $1.75.

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR.

It is one thing to say muslin underwear and another to sell it. We have an elegant line of it all well made and the correct styles and the prices are simply wonderful. We are not selling below cost. We never do that, but for the quality of the muslin, and the way it is made, it is exceptionally cheap. We finish this story by saying it goes at 15c., 28c., 50c. and 75c.

WRAPPERS.

We are now showing the nicest line of ready to wear wrappers in town. They are made well, wear well, and the correct style. If we were not so exacting with the makers of them about furnishing the proper sleeve length, and proper everything else, the ladies would soon go elsewhere. Some made yoke front and back, other, yoke front and Watteau plait backs extra wide skirt and they go at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00.

DIMITIES.

Pretty name isn't it? But not one whit prettier than the 50 pieces of smooth summer stuffs that are properly called by it. Green striped with white grounds is one of them. Can you picture it and the tiny twill that all the dimities own? Dashes, dots and dainties until there isn't room enough here to tell you properly of them. 12½c. yard finishes the story here.

SHOES.

Only the proper shade of tan leather went into the lots that's being made ready for selling, and the best stitching and finishing that one of the largest makers could put into them. All sizes and the very proper last. In the face of a going up leather market, they are wonderfully cheap, being genuine Russia calf at $2.25 pair.

CONTINUED.

We have extended the time from May 1st to August 15th for the use of tickets to procure one or more pieces of furniture free.

Com. vs. B. J. Doyle and Patrick Cain, surety of the peace. The defendants, who were represented by Buckingham and Scarlet, moved for a continuance of the cause on account of the absence of James Kerrigan, an important witness. After considerable discussion the motion was refused, pending the action of the Grand Jury.

In the matter of the Com. vs. John McNamara et. al. No. 6 Feb. T. 1863. This case was tried at the February Session, 1893. The charge was larceny and the defendant together with two others was convicted of breaking and entering into the store of Stephen Baldy. Before sentence was pronounced Simon Veager, a special officer of the Western District, appeared in Court and requested permission to take the prisoner to Lycoming county as he was wanted by the U. S. authorities on the charge of robbing the post-office at Williamsport. He was allowed to take him with the understanding that he was to be returned to this Court for sentence, but somehow this was not done but he was allowed to go at large about one year ago. Sometime ago officer Holland of the D. L. & W. R. R. Co. in arresting tramps for stealing a ride on the trains came upon McNamara. He knew him at once and knew he was wanted by the Court to receive his sentence. On being called before the Court, he said he had no counsel neither did he desire any. The Court sentenced him to pay a fine of $50, and costs of prosecution, return the property stolen if not already done, and undergo imprisonment at the Eastern Penitentiary at labor for the term of one year.

In the matter of the estate of Peter A. Cole, dec'd. C. A. Small, Esq., appointed auditor.

In the estate of David Kreisher, deceased. Robt. Buckingham is continued as auditor to file report at next term.

Houseknecht vs. H. H. Hulme. The rule is continued for the purpose of taking depositions, until next argument Court.

Com. vs. Milton Hinterliter. Case tried, verdict guilty. This was a Main township case, and arose in a quarrel over a child. The defendant struck the son of Mrs. Knecht, the prosecutor, and she resented it, and defendant struck and choked her. He was convicted.

Com. vs. Francis Morrison. The recognizance of the defendant and his mother Catharine taken in the sum of $300 that he keep the peace toward all good citizens especially his mother. After giving him some wholesome advice in regard to his future conduct, he was allowed to depart.

Com vs. John Getkin, larceny. Being called before the Court for sentence the Court said that they had investigated his case and were led to believe his story, that he stole the cheese and oysters because he needed food for his family. After informing him of the punishment provided for crimes of this nature, and also that mercy had been requested not only by his friends but also by the counsel for the R. R. Co., the Court said they would suspend sentence pending his good behaviour.

The Grand Jury returned the following true bills: Com. vs. Jos. H. Dawes, forgery; Com. vs. same, misdemeanor; Com. vs. Masteller, rape; Com. vs. same, adultry; Com. vs. same, adultery; Com. vs. August Kline, horse stealing.

Com. vs. Masteller, continued until next term, having no oyer and terminer jury.

The case of August Kline, horse stealing, was then called for trial. District Attorney representing the Com. and Wm. Chrisman, the defendant. The testimony was substantiall as given before the Justice and published in this paper a few weeks ago. Verdict guilty.

Milton Hinterliter was sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar and costs.

The Court pronounced the following sentence in the case of Joseph H. Dawes:

In the cases of the Commonwealth vs. Joseph H. Dawes who has entered the plea of guilty to the charge of violating the Act of Assembly of May 7th 1889, providing for the examination of miners in the anthracite regions of this Commonwealth, and to the crime of forgery in consideration of the plea for mercy coming from the counsel of both the prosecution and defendant and on account of your advanced age and your heretofore honorable life, we comply with their requests and suspend sentence on the indictment for forgery and impose the extreme penalty of the law in the other case, which sentence is that you, Joseph H. Dawes, pay the costs of prosecution and a fine of one hundred dollars to the Commonwealth and stand committed until this sentence is complied with. Under the charge of forgery and your plea, we might, and may hereafter unless your future conduct be upright, send you to the penitentiary for ten years, but believing that the detection and exposure of the crime in this case, will have greater effect in deterring others than severity of punishment, and that your penitence and present punishment will be sufficient guarantee for your future good behavior, we remand you to the custody of the sheriff.

BY THE COURT.

Recognizance of Milton Masteller and Moses Strausser taken in $1000 for the appearance of said Masteller at Sept. Session.

The Grand Jury returned true bills in the following cases:

Com. vs. Bernard J. Doyle assault and battery with intent to kill; Same vs. Patrick Cain, two indictments. Assault and battery with intent to kill and carrying concealed deadly weapons.

W. C. Johnston vs. Georgia Johnston libel in divorce. Jas. L. Evans appointed commissioner.

In the estate of Peter K. Mensch Grant Herring continued as auditor, B. F. Zarr continued as auditor in the estate of M. G. Hughes dec'd.

BOTTOM OF THE OCEAN.

What Becomes of the Ships That Sinks in Storm and Battle.

In looking at the ocean, the mind almost instinctively turns to the fate of the ships which have found their resting place therein. If the reader were appointed to inspect the bottom of the drained sea, he would be sure to look at once for some remnants of this kind, overwhelmed by storm and battle.

Fancy has depicted these vessels as thickly strewn over the bottom of the ocean, and at times suspended in the depths, unable on account of the density of the water to find their way down. But all we know of the conditions of the deep leads us, says the Boston "Traveler," to believe that the vessel sinks to the bottom right away. In a few hours at most it reaches its everlasting grave, and is ready for the swift destruction which awaits it.

When it reaches the bed of the sea it must in part sink into the ooze, which everywhere is deep. Quickly the creatures of the sea, who, by long existence in fields where food is scanty, have learned to avail themselves of every chance of subsistence, seize upon all the organic matter which fortune has sent to them. Even the masts and the woodwork will shortly be honeycombed and weighted down by encrusting forms.

Ships of European peoples have been for centuries finding their way to the floor of the ocean. Probably over 100,000 vessels have met this fate since the time when our race first began to spread throughout the world. Yet by far the greatest part of these have fallen upon the shallows near the shore, where the swift currents and rapidly moving debris are likely to aid in their destruction and burial.

How swiftly they disappear in these conditions may be judged by the experience of the diver who has sought for sunken treasures. Almost invariably, after a hundred years or so has passed, they find that the craft is quite lost sight of. Curiously enough, the most permanent records of man's empire of the seas is being written in the ashes from the coal fed fires of the steamships. This waste is in its nature indestructible, and the mass of material constributed in any one year to the ocean bed is to be reckoned by the million tons. In time all the great ship routes will be paved with this debris, which will be built into the rocks, to remain as the most enduring monument of man's sway upon this sphere.

THE LIVERY HORSE.

Hardly any class of animals suffers so much from ignorance, carelessness and cruelty on the part of drivers as the livery horse. Many of the people who hire horses know nothing about driving or caring for them; many others, since they do not own the horse, care nothing about any injury to him provided they do not have to pay for it, and still another class takes pleasure in driving him at the top of his speed as long as he can go, regardless of his distress. Then there are the drunken drivers, reckless of everything, the drivers who want to race with everybody who comes along, and the people out for a "good time," and whose idea is to "let 'er go." There are the people who overdrive, who do not water, who water when the horse is overheated, who do not blanket, and others who commit all remaining kinds of offences against horse-flesh—the one idea being that since the horse is not their own it don't make much difference.

The only remedy is to educate public opinion up to the point where people will treat horses well for the horses' sakes, and see to it that others do so also. No class of animals needs the Humane Society more than livery horses, and no class of people ought to back up the Society more vigorously than liverymen.—Ex.

A Minister's Experience With Heart Disease.

Rev. L. W. Showers, Elderton, Pa.: "For many years my greatest enemy has been organic heart disease. From uneasiness about the heart, with palpitation, it had developed into thumping, fluttering, and choking sensations. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gave instant relief. A few bottles have rid me of almost every symptom of heart disease. It is a wonder-worker." Sold by Wm. S. Rishton. 6-15-1y.

ORIGINAL CONSTITUTION.

How the Precious Document Is Kept Sealed Under Glass.

The original Constitution of the United States was written upon a long roll, that was afterward cut up and put under glass in five oak frames two inches deep, and fourteen by nineteen inches in size. In four of these frames are parchment sheets easily filling the space, on which are written the Constitution of the United States. In the fifth frame are the signatures and the resolution submitting the document to the States for ratification. This is the original of our national Constitution—the only Constitution our republic ever had. Most States of the Union have had from two to half a dozen Constitutions, and the Empire State has recently changed its Constitution again.

The lines of this original Constitution of the United States run across the sheet, and the penmanship is very coarse. The preamble, which so many of you can repeat, is separated from the text by a narrow space, and there is on attempt at fancy lettering in the opening words, as there is in the Articles of Confederation. Many of the signatures are the same as are found at the bottom of the Declaration of Independence. The amendments, even the very first one, do not form part of this original, but are written upon separate rolls of parchment, and preserved in tin tubes that stand in the corner of a closet. The number of these tubes is greatly increased by those that contain the official ratifications by the States. The earlier of these ratifications includes approval of the Constitution and of the earlier amendments. Later amendments, such as the celebrated Fourteenth and Fifteenth, adopted at later dates, required separate ratifications and separate tubes.—Harper's Young People.

A SYRACUSE LADY.

Suffered from Heart Trouble, Liver Complaint and Rheumatism, and was cured.

From Syracuse (N. Y.) Herald.

The efficacy of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was substantially proven—in the case of Mrs. C. S. Abell, of this city.

Mrs. Abell, lives at No. 114 Roberts avenue, where she was seen by a reporter. She talked freely of her case and said: "For a number of years I have been troubled with liver complaint and rheumatism that made me almost helpless. I became so ill I could scarcely walk the floor. One of our home physicians informed me that I had heart trouble and began treating me for that. His treatment did no good. One day I read of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy which I purchased, and began taking, and improved greatly. I have now taken six bottles, and was never so well in my life. I can say nothing but kind words for Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, to which I owe so much. I know of another case in which Favorite Remedy restored to health a friend, who was thought incurable."

Mrs. Abell also said she would be glad to describe her case to any sufferer. The family are quite as profuse in their praise of Favorite Remedy as Mrs. Abell herself.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is a never failing specific in diseases of the skin and blood. It restores the disordered liver to a healthy condition and corrects constipation. It is a certain cure for the diseases peculiar to women. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, erysipelas, nervousness, loss of sleep, or that worn out feeling. In cases of rheumatism, dyspepsia, Bright's disease, gravel, diabetes and bladder troubles, it has cured where all else failed. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold by all dealers in medicine at $1 bottle, or six bottles for $5. 2t.

Reduced Rates to Denver, Col., via Pennsylvania Railroad.

For the accommodation of persons who desire to visit Colorado on the occasion of the meeting of the National Educational Association, at Denver, Col., July 5 to 12, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets on July 3, 4, and 5, to Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou, Pueblo, at the extremely low rate $50.75 from New York, $49 25 from Philadelphia, $47.50 from Baltimore and Washington, $47 25 from Harrisburg; proportionate rates from other points.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

Madame la Mode showers so many artistic novel designs and shades of colors on the new cotton fabrics that it will not be the fault of her toilette if the summer girl is not a picture this season.

The new cottons are not only exquisite in ornament and elegant in effect, but they are, what is most desirable of all, inexpensive, and when made up according to the latest caprice of la Mode, they are dreams of beauty and daintiness. Lovely creped challies come in a variety of Dresden effects. Sometimes the whole gown is scattered with exquisite blossoms or ornamented with a charming Dresden border.

One cannot imagine the fascinating and fairylike effect of the new flowered lawns trimmed with gauze Pompadour ribbons combined with embroidery or lace. One beautiful imported gown of green organdie is so exactly the shade of June grass that with the perfectly colored wild flowers scattered over it, the effect brought to the mind is a vision of fresh country fields with bright blossoms. The very full paysanne skirt is made over a foundation slip of pale violet silk. A black gauze ribbon painted with butter-cups and tied in knots at intervals borders the bottom of the dress. The corsage is trimmed in fichu effect with delicate mull embroidery and the same butter cup ribbon.

As for points of information concerning street gowns, the drooping waists, large sleeves and full skirts increase in popularity.

Modistes from Paris bring skirts very wide, but less stiffened than formerly. The average width is five or six yards at the foot and close fitting about the hips. Those like the design on first page of "La Mode de Paris" for June are specially popular.

An exquisite little summer gown is illustrated in the Paris Fashion Letter of the "Paris Album of Fashion." The most charming and picturesque group of children's summer costumes and dainty little bonnets are seen in "La Mode. The very toilette on the cover of the "French Dressmaker" is a poem in itself. All the abovementioned journals are published by the well-known house of A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street.

"La Mode de Paris" and "Paris Album of Fashion" $3.50 each for a year's subscription or 35 cents a copy; "The French Dressmaker" is $3.00 per annum, or 30 cts. a copy; and "La Mode" is $1.50 a year, or 15 cts. a copy. If you are unable to procure either of these journals from your newsdealer do not take any substitute, but apply by mail to Messrs. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York.

SIMPLIFIED ELOCUTION.

A new book, bearing the above title, by Edwin Gordon Lawrence, teacher of elocution and director of the Lawrence School of Acting, has just been issued. Simplified Elocution is a comprehensive system of vocal and physical gymnastics; it contains explicit instructions for the cultivation of the speaking voice and gesture: directions for the production of breath, sound and speech, and a thorough explanation of the muscles and organs employed: rules for articulation, modulation, emphasis and delivery: postures and movements of the feet, body, arms, head, eyes, etc.

To the treatise is added a Complete Speaker, consisting of selections in poetry and prose suitable for recitation, which, as the author says in his introduction, "are not chosen on account of their newness, but from their intrinsic merit and their adaptability as exercises."

The work is designed for the special use of teachers, actors, students, colleges, schools, and all those who wish to perfect themselves in the noble art of expression.

The book, which contains 232 pages, is handsomely bound in cloth and gold, and will be sent postage free on receipt of $1.00 [New York: published by the author, 106 West 42d Street]

Use it in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

Division of a Fraction.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN.

Dear Sir:

A. B. seems to think X. Y. Z is wrong, and takes some space to prove his point.

Now X. Y. Z. takes this position, that the assertion that a greater number can be contained in a smaller number is false in theory, false in practice and false in fact.

We have yet to learn that ⅔ of a dollar divided by ¾ of a dollar will equal eight ninths of a dollar; that is to say 66⅔ ÷ 75 = 88 and eight ninths. If this is a fact then I know of no easier way of making money and I will agree to furnish the dividend if A. B. will find the divisor, and I will take the quotient. We will go a little further. The ground work of division is to make a thing smaller, and in all questions of this kind value is not taken into consideration. We say ⅔ is contained in ⅔ one time so is 2 contained in 2 one time; ⅔ in ¾ one time 3 in 3 one time, no question as to value.

A five gallon cask will not contain a sixty four gallon hogshead without a dangerous strain on the hoops.

Reduced Rates to Philadelphia via Pennsylvania Railroad

On the occasion of the dedication of the Odd Fellows' Temple at Philadelphia, May 21, 1895, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell, on May 20 and 21, excursion tickets to Philadelphia and return from all points on its system east of Pittsburg and Erie, north of Quantico and south of Canandaigua, inclusive, at a single fare for the round trip, with minimum rate of fifty cents. Tickets will be good for return passage until May 23 inclusive.

This rate is open to the public, and offers an excellent opportunity for a visit to Philadelphia at a very small cost.

Fast and frequent express trains run from Philadelphia to all principal New Jersey seashore resorts.

IT WILL BE A GREAT DAY.

Odd Fellow's Dedication Parade at Philadelphia. Special Low Rate Tickets via Reading Railroad.

One of the events of the year will be the dedication of the mammoth and magnificent temple of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, just completed, at Philadelphia. The dedicatory ceremonies, which will be of a highly impressive character, will take place in the new building on Tuesday, May 21, and will be supplemented by a great parade of the Order in the afternoon of the same day. The procession will be one of the largest and most imposing civic pageants ever witnessed in this country, and it is predicted that more than 100,000 visitors will pour into Philadelphia from points more or less distant in this and other states.

To enable the public at large, as well as Odd Fellows and their families, to enjoy the great spectacle at a moderate expense, the Reading Railroad will sell special excursion tickets from all stations on its lines to Philadelphia at the rate of a single one way fare for the round trip, no tickets, however, to be sold for less than 50 cents. Children between five and twelve will be carried at one-half the special rates. These excursion tickets will be good on all trains going to Philadelphia on May 20th and 21st, and for the return trip until and including May 23d.

A Piece of Her Mind.

A lady correspondent has this to say:

"I want to give a piece of my mind to a certain class who object to advertising, when it costs them any thing—this won't cost them a cent.

I suffered a living death for nearly two years with headaches, backache, in pain standing or walking, was being literally drugged out of existence, my misery increased by drugging.

At last, in despair, I committed the sin of trying an advertised medicine, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and it restored me to the blessedness of sound health. I honor the physician who when he knows he can cure, has the moral courage to advertise the fact."

The medicine mentioned cures all the delicate diseases peculiar to females, as "Female Weakness," periodical pains, irregularities, nervous prostration, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's Dance, sleeplessness, threatened insanity.

To permanently "cure" constipation, biliousness, indigestion or dyspepsia, use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Reduced Rates to Reading, Pa., via Pennsylvania Railroad.

On May 28 the main festivities in connection with the Annual Conclave of the Knight's Templar at Reading, Pa., will be held, and on that day the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Reading and return from all points on their Schuylkill Division, Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre, Sunbury, and intermediate stations, at a single fare for the round trip, with minimum rate of twenty-five cents. These tickets will be good on that day only.

A special train will leave Reading at midnight for Philadelphia, stopping at principal intermediate stations.

A FATAL ENVELOPE.

Cut in the Tongue While Licking It a Business Man Died.

S. Fechheimer of Chicago died on the 2nd from blood poisoning as a result of cutting his tongue while licking an envelope. Mr. Fechheimer's death was a singular instance of the dangers of blood poisoning, and his case is almost unparalleled in medical science. Saturday night he was writing to his family, telling of his successful conclusion of some business negotiations

He made ready to seal the envelope and passed the mucilage portion of it across his tongue. The edge of the envelope was sharp and cut Mr. Fechheimer's tongue so that it bled a little. He thought nothing of it, however, until the next day, when his tongue began to swell and pain him. The symptoms of a serious case of blood poisoning were manifest to the doctor who was called to Mr. Fechheimer's hotel Sunday. The latter grew worse rapidly. The poison in the mucilage got into his blood and soon permeated his entire system. He was reported a little better Wednesday, but yesterday his condition sank and he breathed his last in the afternoon. Barely a drop of mucilage caused his death.

CLEVELAND'S WARNING.

HE WRITES A LETTER TO GOVERNOR STONE OF MISSISSIPPI.

The Welfare of the Party Demands That the Democracy Stand on the Traditional Doctrine of Sound and Safe Money.

Governor Stone on Friday evening gave to the newspapers a letter addressed to him by President Cleveland, under date of April 26. The following is a full text of the letter:

MY DEAR SIR—Your letter of the 21st inst. is at hand. I do not feel inclined to find fault with your criticism, but I think the matters you refer to should be judged in the light of the circumstances existing at the time the things were done. I never had an idea of building up or fostering a personal following, but so far as politics should properly influence me in making appointments I have tried to be Democratic and not proscriptive. I am glad you are frank enough to admit your participation in bringing about a condition in office holding which may not be all that could not now be desired. Whether those appointed to places shall, in speech and action, behave decently towards the administration, under which they hold office must remain, to a large extent, a matter of taste and good breeding.

There are, however, some officials who devote themselves so industriously to villification and abuse of those under whom they hold office as to indicate that their fidelity cannot be trusted for the performance of their duties in a manner creditable to the administration and who apparently assume they may spend the time they owe the public service in doing political mischief. In the interest of good government such office holders must not be surprised if they are summarily dealt with.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

When I received your letter I had just finished reading a letter of yours, in which you explain to the citizens of Mississippi your views on the currency question. It seems to me you have in that letter contributed in the best possible style and in a most valuable way to the fund of argument in favor of sound money. I have never ceased to wonder why the people of the south, furnishing so largely as they do products which are exported for gold, should be willing to submit to the disadvantages and loss of silver monometallism and to content themselve with a depreciated and fluctuating currency while permitting others to reap a profit from the transmutation of the prices of their production from silver to gold. I hope this letter of yours will be given the widest possible circulation, especially among our southern fellow-citizens, and that they will be permitted to see the pitfall which is directly before them who madly rush towards the phantom light of free, unlimited and independent coinage.

If we, who profess fealty to the Democratic party, are sincere in our devotion to its principles and if we are right in believing that the ascendancy of those principles is a guarantee of personal liberty, universal care for the rights of all, non sectional, American brotherhood and manly trust in American citizenship in any part of our land, we should study the effects upon our party and consequently upon our country of a committal of the National Democracy to the silver arbitration.

FOR SAFE AND SOUND MONEY.

If there are Democrats who suppose that our party can stand on a platform embodying such doctrine, either through its affirmative strength or through the perplexity of our opponents on the same proposition, or if there are Democrats who are willing to turn their backs upon their party associations in the hope that free and unlimited and independent coinage of silver can win a victory without the aid of either party organization, they should deceive themselves no longer, nor longer refuse to look in the face the results that will follow the defeat if not the disintegration of the Democratic party upon the issue which tempts them from their allegiance. If we should be forced away from our traditional doctrine of sound and safe money our old antagonist will take the field on the platform which we abandon, and neither the votes of reckless Democrats nor reckless Republicans will avail to stay their easy march to power. This is as plain as anything can possibly be.

It, therefore, becomes the duty of every Democrat, whoever he may be, to consider what such a victory would mean, and in the light of a proper conception of its result he should deliberately shape his course. Yours, very truly, GROVER CLEVELAND.

CLAIMS REOPENED.

Adverse Decision of the Commissioner of Pensions Overruled.

A decision of much importance to children claiming under the general law has been rendered by Assistant Secretary John M. Reynolds, whereby the action of the Commissioner of Pensions is overruled, and the practice prevailing prior to such adverse decision of the Commissioner is resumed. This will operate to reopen a great number of claims for minor's pension under the general law that have been rejected during the past 15 months upon the ground that the children claimed for were over the age of 16 years at date of filing the application for pension. This decision has no bearing upon claims filed under the act of June 27, 1890. The case on which the decision is made is that of the children of Thomas W. Baugher, Co. A. 29th Ill., (No 510,273); viz., Samuel Baugher, born Oct. 5, 1863; Alice Blair, Oct. 7, 1865, and Mary Mitchell, May 5, 1868. A declaration was filed April 21, 1891. The soldier died Jan 23, 1869, and the mother remarried Sept 26, 1869.

The claim was rejected Jan. 5, 1894, on the ground that claimants had no title at date of filing their application, being all at that date over the age of 16 years. From this rejection an appeal was taken Jan. 23 1894.

Section 4702, R. S., as amended by the act of Aug. 7, 1882, under which this claim is made, provides, in substance, that where the soldier's death is directly due to his service title to pension shall devolve upon the widow or minors, first, if there be no widow; second, in case of her subsequent death without payment to her of any part of the pension, and third, from the date of remarriage of the widow. The right of the minor child becomes absolute upon the death of the father leaving no widow, but if he leaves a widow this right is held in abeyance to await the contingencies of the widow's death or remarriage, and upon the happening of either their title accrues and the date of commencement relates to the period fixed by the statute.

There was no exception from limitation in favor of minors' claims prior to July 27, 1868. But under the act of March 3, 1873, as re-enacted in Section 4709, R. S., and finally as enacted in Section 2, act of March 3, 1879, claims by or in behalf of insane persons and children under the age of 16 years were excepted from any limitation upon the date of their commencement and such claims stood, under the act of 1879, which repealed all prior laws relative to date of commencement, as though the proviso therein had not been enacted.

The interpretation which the Department now gives to this statute was not entertained by those who were first called upon to execute the law, and who were probably concerned in framing it, but though an almost unbroken practice for 15 years or more such claims had been admitted. It is therefore held in the light of this construction and practice, coupled with what reasonably appears to have been the intent in the enactment of the statute in question:

1. That the clause "children under 16 years years of age" is descriptive of a class of claims the right to which has accrued by reason of the claimant being under 16 years of age at the death of the father from causes originating in the service and line of duty, and such claims are excepted from the limitation contained in the proviso to the act of March, 3, 1879.

2. That such claims are not forfeited by neglect to apply therefor during the period of pensionable minority.—Washington Tribune.

SERUM FOR CANCERS.

A French Discovery That Has Cured Several Supposed Hopeless Cases.

Doctors Reclus and Terrier announced at the last sitting of the French Academy of Sciences the discovery of a serum capable of curing cancers and cancerous tumors. Several supposed hopeless cases have been completely cured. The system of cultivating the vaccine is the same as adopted by Dr. Roux for diphtheria serum.

The patients are treated with serum obtained from the blood of dogs previously inoculated with a cancerous fluid. Further experiments are being made.

Drug envelopes, Nos. 1, 2 and 3 manilla, white or colored, coin envelopes, and shipping tags, with or without strings, always in stock at this office. tf.

Profit in Sheep.

A writer thus sums up the sources of profit in sheep: There is the wool, the mutton, the young lambs, the sales for breeding purposes and the enrichment they give the land. Further, they are consumers of weeds, which are so constant a nuisance, and they live upon these and other things, which other animals refuse.

Care of Garden Tools.

Don't leave any garden tools out over winter. Collect them all and store in a shed or barn; and take care of the racks and trellises. Housed over winter they will last for three or four years, if substantially made to begin with. But left out in winter they will seldom outlast the second season.

TISSOT'S PICTURES.

RESULT OF HIS VISIT TO PALESTINE TO STUDY THE LIFE OF CHRIST.

Interesting Story of the Conversion of a Famous French Painter—The Picture Which Was "the Father of the Brood"—"From the Top of the Cross."

Theodore Stanton in The Century tells the strange story of the conversion of M. James Tissot, the French painter whose 300 or 400 pictures illustrating the life of Jesus formed one of the most interesting features of the 1894 Champ de Mars salon.

Seven or eight years ago artistic Paris talked for a day of the departure of Tissot for the Holy Land in order to seek new inspirations. Tissot was then fresh in the public mind as the author of a series of etchings depicting the passions, charms and seductions of feminine life at the French capital, and many an artist smiled skeptically at this apparent contradiction. Yet Tissot had already shown more than once that his talent had a bent in the direction of religious subjects.

Then, too, at the very moment when he was engaged in packing his trunk for Palestine he had in his studio a carefully hidden canvas, scarcely dry, which was so penetrated with a subtle spiritual and Christian spirit that its timid author dared not exhibit it in public. It now forms the center of the Tissot collection at the Champ de Mars, where it is exposed for the first time. I refer to a large oil painting called "The Voices Within," wherein are represented a poor man and his wife, who, fallen into deep despair in the midst of poverty and ruin, finally take new heart and courage through the consolation of Jesus, who appears to them, comforts them and shows them his pierced hands. "That was the starting point of my new dispensation," said M. Tissot, pointing to this picture the first time I saw it, "but I had a long and hard struggle before I could bring myself to begin it. More than one night did I lie awake for hours, till my head was burning through the mental strain, struggling against the admission into my heart of the new light that was dawning upon me. But when I finally felt myself conquered and was penetrated through and through by the grand mystery of a God turned man in order to save humanity I could no longer escape from it. So, of course, this large painting must go to the Champ de Mars, for it is really the father of all this big brood of little ones."

With such thoughts in his mind and such awakenings in his heart, in the autumn of 1886 Tissot started for the holy sepulcher with all the enthusiasm of the crusaders of old. He saw, questioned and meditated. He made scores of vivid sketches and wrote reams of thoughtful notes. The first visit was repeated. During this second sojourn he utilized instantaneous photography, which was then first becoming known in France, and was thus able to bring back with him quantities of characteristic types, scenes and landscapes.

The farther he wandered in Palestine the more he saw there, and the deeper he studied his object the stronger grew Tissot's conviction that his precursors in the field of Biblical illustration had not caught the true spirit of their scheme, had not struck the right note. He returned to France determined to catch the true spirit and to strike the right note. Once within the walls of Paris again he buried himself in his handsome, secluded home, situated at the head of a quiet lane within a stone's throw of the Bois de Boulogne, and gave himself up entirely to his thoughts, his books, his collections and his art. He pored over musty old commentaries on the Bible, studied archæology, mastered the Talmud, devoured books of eastern travel read the history of the Jews and Arabs and went over the Scriptures again and again in the Vulgate and in the French and English translations. Nor did he neglect the Apocrypha. In a word, before taking up his brush Tissot saturated his mind with his subject and gave full rein to an imagination now thirsting for the occult and mysterious. Society lost its charms for him. He who had been a mondain now became almost a recluse.

Emphasis must be laid on the fact that Tissot, in the enthusiasm of a neophyte, has not simply gone back to the antiquated treatments of religious subjects. Herein lies perhaps the chief merit of his collection. His originality may often border on profanity, but never crosses the line. His innovations in the handling of old familiar themes frequently take the breath away when the beholder is of the cloth. An ecclesiastic who has carefully studied the collection declares that in his rendering of the passion Tissot has introduced numerous details that had never before occurred to the clerical mind, and yet that none of these new departures is contrary to orthodoxy and in no respect mars the emotion produced by the scene.

Tissot's series of "portraits" of the apostles is a mixture of archæological, ethnological, phrenological and historical data welded together by reverence, art and talent. They are sure to startle—that of St. Peter, for instance—a priest at the first glance, but the work will win respect and admiration at the second, for Tissot has a reason for all, even for the color of a garment, the form of a hood or the style of the fastening of a sandal. One of the visitors has remarked concerning this remarkable gallery of saints that the artist has not flattered his subjects. There is nothing wonderful about these poor fishermen, he says, nothing in their plain attire or everyday physiognomy to awaken awe. "But you feel that these are indeed the men whom Jesus inspired." In a word, Tissot's creations are pure realism tempered by sincere faith.

Perhaps the boldest of the pictures of pure imagination is that which he has named, "What Jesus Saw From the Top of the Cross." In the first place, you see no cross. The spectator stands where the Christ should be, and this, in the words of the note, is what meets his eyes: "At the foot, weeping and burning with divine love and repentence, is Mary Magdalene; his mother, with her look of ineffable tenderness; St. John, buried in profound devotion, and many holy women bathed in tears. A little farther back are the blasphemers, the haters and the timid. Staring him in the face is the sepulcher which is to receive his body that very night. Farther back are timorous disciples, who approach that they may have a final glance at the Master before night hides all from view. The fainting Lord can just hear the murmur of the distant city and the low blare of the trumpets at the temple regulating the crowd according to the order of the sacrifices."

BELLAIRE, O., May 7.—It is believed here that the great strike of 1893 will be duplicated. Yesterday the mines working on the co-operative plan and those working at the sixty cent rate were all ordered out, and now 7,000 men are idle. No trouble has occurred.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

On Friday, May 3rd, Mrs. Caroline Andrews of Asbury was eighty-nine years old, and the occasion was celebrated by the gathering together of about thirty of her relatives to spend the day at her pleasant home. She is the widow of Martin Andrews, and a sister of Mrs. Garrison of Bloomsburg, Mrs. Aaron Boone of Afton, and Mrs. Wm. Fox of Philadelphia. Mrs. Benjamin Merrill, now deceased, was also a sister. Mrs. Andrews has retained all her faculties in a remarkable degree, and is a great reader, keeping herself posted on all the questions of the day. A year ago she injured her hip by a fall, and has not been able to walk since, but she is otherwise in good health.

Among the guests present were Mrs. E. A. Rawlings and children, Mrs. W. Jones and children of Bloomsburg; Elliott Lemmon and wife, Mrs. Jones, N. B. Smith and wife, Misses Runyon, Mrs. Eli Robbins and her three daughters-in law, Mr. Stokes and family, Mrs. Harrison and son, Mrs. Casper Hess and children, Mrs. Martin Ammerman, Mrs. Aaron Boone and son, Harvey Gilbert and family, Joel Lunger and family, Isaac Labour and family, and several of the Hess family. A delightful day was spent by all present, one of the prominent features being the bountiful and delicious dinner.

Will Smith of Stillwater transacted business here Saturday night.

Benton was in full bloom Saturday night, as the sidewalks, were almost impassable, as every body was out for a promenade.

ESPY.

Miss Josephine Drescher of Stillwater, was the guest of Miss Josephine McCollum on Sunday.

The Lutheran church having been declared unsafe for use, all meetings will now be held in the Hall, pending the building of a new church. Although the church was apparently in good condition, it was considered wise to take this move.

The contrast between disease and health is as sharply marked as that between darkness and light. The sufferings of disease make enjoyment of life impossible and perfect health makes even a commonplace existence a bright and happy one.

The truest thing about disease is that most of it is needless. Nine-tenths of it can be subdued by very simple remedies. Even that most dreadful malady, consumption, can be cured in 98 cases out of a hundred, if it be treated in its early stages with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Consumption is a disease caused by impurity of the blood, and the first thing to be done in its treatment is to make the blood pure, rich and wholesome. That is half the battle. The other half is the impregnation of the blood with cleansing, healing, invigorating medicines. The "Golden Medical Discovery" does both. It first puts the whole digestive system into perfect order, rids it of all impurities and from the vantage ground so gained, reaches out to every fiber of the body and restores all to perfect vigor. It cures many diseases, simply because many diseases spring from a set of common causes. The same disorder may lead to different symptoms in different people. What might be only a little indigestion in one person, may combine with a slight cold in another and result in consumption. A treatment that tones up the whole system is always the safest. A medicine that is good for the general health is pretty sure to cure ordinary diseases. Six cents in stamps with this notice, sent to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., will bring a large 160 page book. It contains photographs and letters from hundreds who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Waterproof collars and cuffs that will not wilt, are not effected by moisture and look just like linen are all the fashion now. They are made by covering a linen collar or cuff with "celluloid" and are the only waterproof goods made with an interlining, consequently the only ones that will stand wear and give perfect satisfaction. Try them and you will never regret it. Always neat, and easily cleaned. When soiled simply wipe off with a wet cloth or sponge. Every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Ask for those so marked and refuse any imitations, as they cannot possibly please you. If your dealer does not keep them, we will send a sample direct on receipt of price. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair. State size and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

J. K. Miller is making preparations for a grand entertainment to be held in the Hall at the close of his regular school term.

Many of our people took advantage of the several opportunities afforded by the steamboat and hacks on Tuesday evening, and attended the P. O. S. of A. anniversary celebration at Bloomsburg.

F. S. Nagle, in keeping with his excellent drug store, has set up a fine new soda fountain, which is now in running order. He will serve all the standard flavors and proposes using none but the purest of syrups.

Dr. Smith has erected a telephone of his own running from his office to Light Street, which will be very convenient for his practice in that place.

Miss Carrie Redeker of Bloomsburg, was a visitor to town on Monday evening.

We are promised a grand phonographic entertainment in the Hall on Tuesday evening next.

Our friend "Uncle John" is now the happy possessor of a bicycle, and he promises to make the boys hustle in the future. It will be remembered that Uncle was the originator of what was termed the unicycle last summer, but that not coming up to requirements, he is compelled to admit the superiority of the bicycle.

Rev. Glanding of Ashland will occupy the Lutheran pulpit here next Sunday morning and evening.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Almost every neighborhood contains some one who has been helped by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. J. Tinley Mullen, of Clearfield, Pa., writes under date of Nov. 28th, as follows: "Last winter our oldest boy had the mumps after which he got cold and it turned to diphtheria. We did not think he could get well, and after he did recover he had not sufficient strength to walk. He had no appetite and we got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and he began taking it. In three days he was able to eat as well as usual My husband had catarrh of the throat and the doctors could not relieve him so he took Hood's Sarsaparilla and he has not been troubled since. Last spring I had a pain across my kidneys which troubled me a great deal and I was also afflicted with swelling in my throat: I took two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and a box of Hood's Vegetable Pills, and have no such troubles since.

Gidding & Co. sell children's wash knee pants for 15 cts.

The action of the grand jury in ignoring the bill against Casper I. Thomas for the killing of Walter Hayes, meets with universal approval. A trial in court could not have resulted otherwise than in acquittal, and would have been a large expense to the county.

RUPTURE

is one of the very common ailments of mankind. It is usually the result of hard work or over exertion, and is oftentimes the legacy of fevers or severe attacks of sickness which leave the abdominal muscles in a weakened condition allowing the protrusion of bowel. It is to be ruptured, but it is very annoying and sometimes dangerous. Until recently it was thought to be incurable without an operation but thanks to scientific research is now ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN in ninety out of a hundred cases where the rupture can be returned. I give a written guarantee to cure or no pay. No knife, no inconvenience, no operation, no detention from business and no truss to annoy you afterwards. One visit to my office weekly for from four to eight weeks is usually sufficient for the worst cases.
